DOCK SEALS

CONSERVE ENERGY – GUARD YOUR DOORS AND YOUR PROFITS

Blue Giant dock seals come in a variety of configurations and can be customized to suit various applications. They provide protection during cargo handling operations by enabling a tight, compressed seal around the trailer body. The resilient foam pads spring back into shape after the truck departs, ready for the next shipment. Blue Giant dock seals can contribute to your company's bottom line in three major areas:

Employee Safety

Our dock seals eliminate the gap between the building wall and the open trailer door, preventing rain, snow, ice, and blowing dirt from creating cross-docking hazards. Accidents can cost employers more than one million dollars in worker's compensation payouts. Lost productivity, equipment repair, and elevated insurance premiums can be equally detrimental to the bottom line.

Product Integrity

The tight compression between the dock seal and the trailer opening prevents warm outside air from melting or otherwise spoiling frozen product. The seal also keeps pests (insects, rodents) and airborne contaminants from compromising the integrity of goods such as fresh food and pharmaceuticals.

Energy Efficiency

Blue Giant dock seals keep conditioned air from being lost during trailer loading and unloading, which can amount to huge savings in busy facilities. Many states and municipalities offer LEED-related financial incentives and cost rebates for building projects and equipment purchases that advocate energy efficiency.

DOCK SHELTERS

UNOBSTRUCTED LOADING IN ALL WEATHER CONDITIONS

Blue Giant dock shelters come in two primary configurations: stationary and retractable. They accommodate a broad range of trailer and doorway variations while granting unobstructed access to the trailer interior for fast and efficient loading and unloading.

Our dock shelter models provide premium protection to the loading dock area during cargo handling operations. When a truck is parked against the dock, the shelter eliminates the gap between the building and the open trailer doors, keeping out wind, rain, and other airborne hazards and ensuring employee comfort and safety.

Blue Giant dock shelters are fortified with full fiberglass stays to ensure a snug fit while conforming to variations in trailer dimensions. Header frames are peaked in the center to allow for adequate draining during wet weather conditions. Retractable shelters are constructed using a state-of-the-art pivot hinge system that allows the frame to smoothly retract when impacted by incoming trailers.

Blue Giant can offer the ideal dock shelter solution for your unique loading dock requirements.

WHY A DOCK SHELTER?

Safer Workplace: A dry loading dock is a safer loading dock. Dock shelters lower the risk of workplace accidents by shielding the loading bay and the deployed dock leveler from the effect of harsh weather conditions. Cover fabric can withstand high winds and is tear-resistant.

Improved Efficiency: Dock shelters provide complete access to the inside of the trailer while maintaining a snug fit. There are no obstructions to interfere with smooth and steady cargo handling.

Building Integrity: Dock shelters do not apply potentially damaging pressure to the facility wall during use, keeping building integrity intact. Our shelters are compatible with a wide range of wall materials and conditions.
